(Charleston, WV – August 31, 2016) – In partnership with The Comedy Zone Charleston and Holiday Inn & Suites Charleston West, Susan G. Komen West Virginia is excited to introduce the Inaugural Laugh for the Cure. This special evening will be a celebration of breast cancer Survivors, honoring those we've lost and those continuing to fight. We are excited to announce that the hilarious Shaun Jones, will be the headlining comedian for the Laugh for the Cure event on October 14, 2016 starting at 8pm at Comedy Zone Charleston at the Holiday Inn & Suites Charleston West. When Shaun takes the stage, he mixes his talents before the audience, bakes his show just right and serves up a unique dish to satisfy everyone's laughter appetite.

The evening fun includes WSAZ's lovely Amanda Barren as Emcee, cash bar reception, a fabulous silent auction, a hilarious PG-13 comedy show featuring opening act Jamie Utley. To purchase your tickets, be a sponsor or for more information call our office or visit our website at www.komenwv.org

"Laugh for the Cure" has grown from a modest grass-roots effort started in 2002 by a group of friends in Charlotte each of whose lives have been touched by breast cancer, to a national Susan G. Komen program. Laugh for the Cure was founded and led by Tammy Greyshock in celebration of her mother

(now a 28 year survivor), to remember loved ones she and her friends had lost, celebrate survivors and assist those in the community currently impacted by the disease
